

Figure S1. Current speed as a predictor of MaxN for the four most commonly observed species in video. Lines in plots represent running interval smooths, and numbers in plot legends are explanatory power for each species.

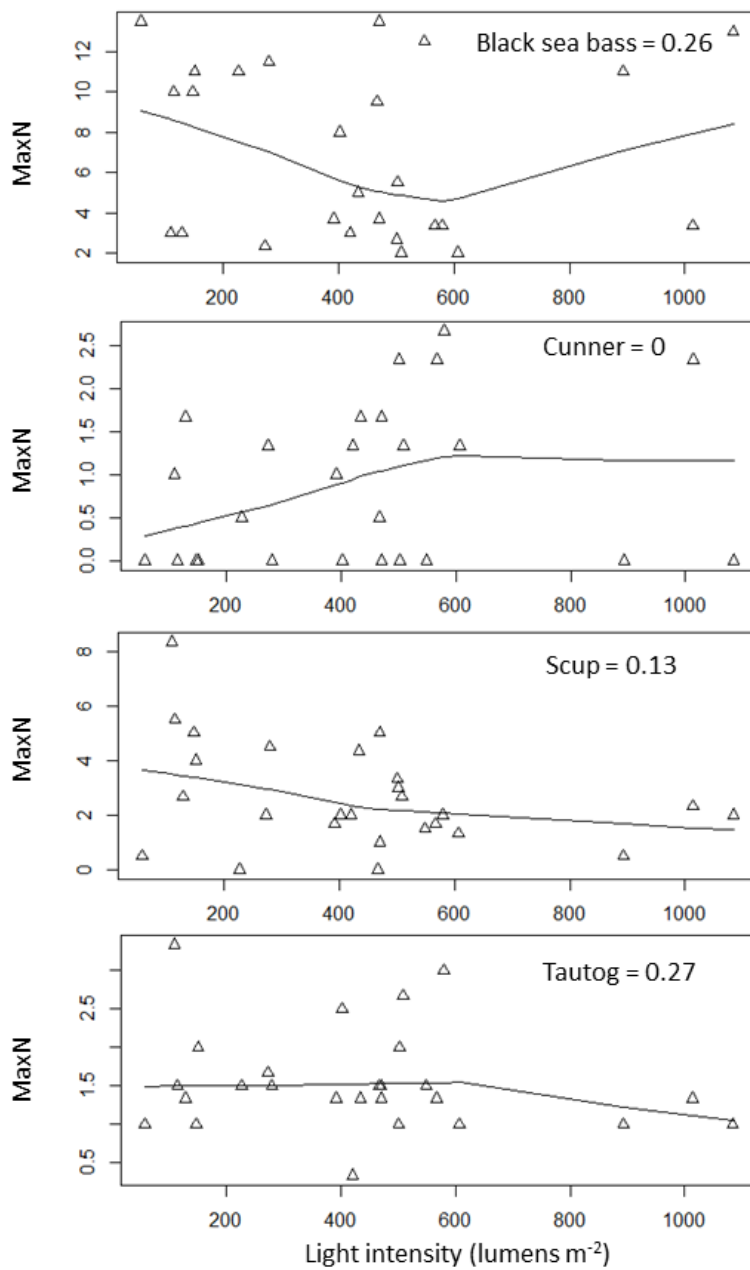

Figure S2. Light as a predictor of MaxN for the four most commonly observed species in video. Lines in plots represent running interval smooths, and numbers in plot legends are explanatory power for each species.